A LETTER FROM MONSIGNOR

Dear Parishioners,

During Lent one of my resolutions was to read more. I was able to complete three books during Lent while reading from the Bible daily. Since I have been injured I have been able to continue that reading habit. Maybe the Lord wanted my Lenten practice to continue, so He allowed me to have more time to read.

One of the books that I am working on, is a book that I had read a number of years ago. I mentioned the book in our last PTO meeting. The book, "The Learning Habit" written by Pressman, Jackson and Pressman, is a must read for parents and educators. The book is based on sound research and information that was collected from 50,000 families across the country. The research is a little dated now, since the book was published in 2014, yet the information is still relevant to our current situations.

In 2001 a survey was conducted in 35 countries to determine children's motivation to read. Of those countries the ranked near the bottom coming in 33rd. There is a clear connection between reading and learning, but there is also a connection to reading and happiness and confidence. When we freely choose to read, we are choosing to learn, and that knowledge will give us confidence.

We generally see a drop in time spent reading in the summer, even though we have more time in the summer to do so. There are so many other activities that we take on in the summer months, and sadly reading can be at the bottom of the list. I recommend "Sons and Soldiers" if you are a WWII history fan. This is the only book written about this particular topic. To grow in an understanding of your spiritual life I highly recommend "The Discernment of Spirits" by Fr. Timothy Gallagher.

I know that the summer activities are already beginning for many, and that you will be traveling a lot. Pack the books, track down the Mass schedules in places you will be visiting, figure out a routine for daily prayer, and enjoy time with family and your summer activities. God Bless you.

Msgr. Tucker

Thank You to Altar Servers

ALTAR SERVERS

Thank you to all boys who have been altar servers throughout this year. Currently, we have 49 servers. These boys have been faithful to Jesus in serving Mass. Some for many years. As the server prayer before Mass says, "with faith, reverence, and love." May Jesus bless them greatly. And may they always follow the Holy Spirit's guidance to attend Sunday Mass, pray with fervor, and be of help to their parish priests in the future.
