LETTER FROM MSGR. TUCKER

Dear Parishioners,

I got good news this week from Aaron Busse regarding the Stained Glass windows. He was in conversation with Harry, the designer, maker and installer of the windows, and the plan is to have the stained glass by the middle of September. This is a great thing, and we have waited a long time for them, and I am sure they will look great and add to the beauty of the Church. I am also hoping that the glare will be greatly reduced. Please pray for this project to be completed and to have this desired effect.

We start the RCIA on Monday evening, and I am not sure how many are going to be present, but I know there will be at least eight, and maybe more. My goal is rather lofty, as we will be going through the Catechism of the Catholic Church. The reading assignments some weeks will be long, and the hope is to have great discussions about these sections. We will not read it from front to back, but there are topics for each week, and appropriate reading to help with the discussion. Some of the paragraphs are difficult to understand, but they are rich in content, and will provide for questions and lots of discussion. The goal is to come to a deep understanding of the Churches teachings, and to be open to the grace of God and to make an ascent of faith. This is good for all that will be present. Whether we have been a Catholic all our life, or are learning about the Catholic Church for the first time, we hear, accept, and strive to life, what the Church professes. This is the ascent of faith, which is required of everyone who desires to believe and follow Christ. I am really looking forward to this, and there is still room for others to attend. I will make additional copies of the schedule for those who have not signed up, and will show up Monday evening at 6:30 pm. God Bless you.

Msgr. Tucker
