MESSAGE FROM MSGR. TUCKER:

Dear Parishioners,

Fr. Malcolm spends time explaining the importance of the Eucharistic prayer and our participation in it. Pope Pius XI wrote about this very specifically, and I will quote from it, and I encourage all to read it and reflect on it. I will explain it in my next note, but for now begin by reading it.

"Because of that wonderful dispensation of Divine Wisdom, by which what is lacking of the suffering of Christ for His Body, which is the Church, is to be filled up in our flesh, we can add, nay even we are bound to add, our own praises and satisfactions to the praises and satisfactions 'which Christ rendered unto God in the name of sinners.' But we must always remember that the whole virtue of the expiation depends on the one sacrifice of Christ in blood, which is renewed without intermission on our altars in a bloodless manner, for the Victim is one and the same; He who then offered Himself on the cross is now offering through the ministry of the priests, the manner of offering only being different. Therefore with the most august sacrifice of the Eucharist an oblation of the ministers and the other Faithful should be joined, that they may present themselves living victims, holy, pleasing to God. Nay even St. Cyprian does not hesitate to declare that the Lord's Sacrifice is not celebrated with legitimate sanctification, unless our oblation and sacrifice correspond to His Passion. Wherefore the Apostle admonishes us that...buried together with Christ and planted together in the likeness of His Death...the life also of Jesus should be made manifest in our bodies, and being made partakers of His eternal priesthood we should offer gifts and sacrifices for sins. Participation in the mystic priesthood and in the office of sacrificing and satisfying is enjoyed not only by those whom our Pontiff, Jesus Christ, employs as His Ministers to offer up a clean oblation to God's name in every place,...but the whole Christian people, rightly called by the Prince of the Apostles 'a chosen generation, a kingly priesthood,' ought to make offering for sin both for itself and all mankind in much the same manner as 'every priest and pontiff taken from among men is ordained for men in the things that pertain to God.' The more perfectly our oblation and sacrifice correspond with the Lord's Sacrifice, that is to say, the more perfectly we immolate our self-love and our desires, and crucify our flesh with that mystic crucifixion of which the Apostles speaks, the more abundant fruits of that propitiation and expiation shall we reap for ourselves and others."

That is more than a mouthful, or mind-full, and will take time to reflect to comprehend the awesome opportunity we have in our participation (a necessary and mindful participation) at Mass, not only for ourselves but for all. Again, please take time to reflect and pray about these words of Pope Pius XI and I will write more about it next week. God Bless you. ~ Msgr. Tucker
